THE ALLIED DEFENSE GROUP NAMES NEW PRESIDENT OF SEASPACE CORPORATION

Company Names David B. Collins to Lead SeaSpace

VIENNA, Virginia, December 21, 2005 – The Allied Defense Group, Inc. (AMEX: ADG) announces it has named David B. Collins as President of SeaSpace Corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Allied Defense Group. SeaSpace manufactures TeraScan ® hardware and software products that provide customers with timely and accurate satellite-derived weather and environmental information. Additionally, SeaSpace offers a newly developed antenna product line, which became available for sale this year and has been well-received by the market.

Mr. Collins most recently served as Director of Administration for TieTek LLC. He has more than 20 years of domestic and international experience in management, marketing and sales, and operations. His experience includes leadership positions with BPX Films, Inteplast Group, Ltd., Cabot Corporation, and Hercules Incorporated, among others.

Major General (Ret.) John J. Marcello, Chief Executive Officer and President of The Allied Defense Group said, “We are pleased to welcome David Collins to our team. In addition to his strong international and operational management skills, David offers transitional and turn-around experience. His talents and leadership skills are the right fit for this business at the right time.”

Mr. Collins said, “The SeaSpace team is a world-class group. I look forward to maximizing their expertise to break new ground. The market is full of both opportunity and challenge. I’m honored to have the chance to work with Allied Defense and the SeaSpace team to seize those opportunities and address the challenges that exist.”

Mr. Collins received his Bachelor of Science degree in Industrial Engineering from Lehigh University and his Master of Business Administration degree from Temple University. Mr. Collins also received his Master of Science degree in Psychology (Organizational Behavior Specialization) from Fairleigh Dickinson University.
